Highlights from the Mayor

Mayor Duane Rosenberg - drosenberg@newcarrolltonmd.gov - 301-459-6100

Closing Out 2019

December 14, 2019, was our annual Santa with a Badge event. Our Police Department hosted children from our local schools. The officers escorted the children to Target and provided each child with gift cards. The kids brought their purchases back to City Hall where volunteers helped wrap presents for their holiday celebrations and enjoyed a lunch with residents, council members, officers and the mayor. Commendations to Chief Rice and his staff for making this event a huge success.

John W. Hoglund
October 4, 1930 – January 2, 2020

A Sad Start to 2020

The new decade started with the sad news of John W. Hoglund's passing, January 2. John was a long time New Carrollton resident, a member of the Friends of the New Carrollton Police Foundation, a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Landover Hills, Maryland and a charter member of the Fellowship of Christian Fire Fighters. He was a member and past president of the Prince George's County Rotary Club. John is remembered as always encouraging and praising his fellow New Carrollton residents. There will be many warm and cherished memories of John in the community.

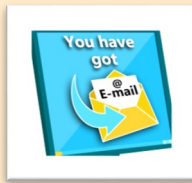

Tax Season

We're in full swing. Community Tax Aid is preparing tax returns at City Hall on Monday and Thursday evenings from 6:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. If you're eligible for the free tax preparation, please come and see us. I am among the volunteers and look forward to seeing our regular customers.

Spring Festival at Beckett Field

In recent years, the City moved its annual Easter Egg hunt from Weinbach Park to Beckett Field. The goal is to expand the annual tradition into a larger full-day event to include activities for adults and children. This year's Spring Festival will be on Saturday, April 4, 2020. Please plan to join us. I'll see you there!

Weekly Email Updates

I share weekly updates via email every Friday. I hope these communications serve to keep residents informed and allow the opportunity to share feedback. I get many responses and always like to hear what's on your minds. If you would like to be added to the list, email or call me.

Highlights from the Administration

Timothy E. George, City Administrative Officer - tgeorge@newcarrolltonmd.gov - 301-459-6100

While we all button up for the next few months to stay warm we are continuing to focus on the important work to be done in our City. Work is proceeding on Municipal Center and parking lot, and we are continuing our efforts to Go Green in our great City. As always, if you have questions, concerns or would otherwise like to share your thoughts with the Administration, please do not hesitate to reach out to us.

City of New Carrollton Veterans Park

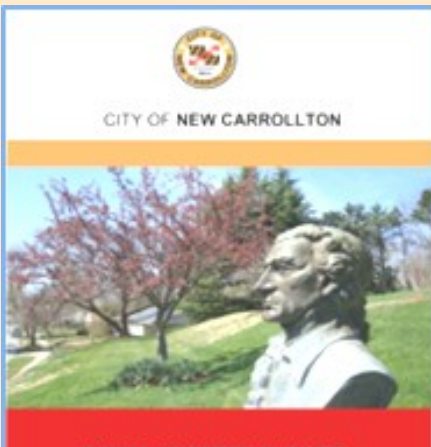

Veterans Park Memorial

As you may know, the City has a Veterans Park honoring and remembering veterans. On November 9, 2019, the City erected three memorials to honor three men who were Veterans and who made significant contributions to the City of New Carrollton, New Carrollton founder and former Mayor Albert W. Turner, former Mayor Andrew C. Hanco, and Councilmember Richard Bechtold. The City would like to continue this tradition and erect memorials in honor of deserving individuals each year on or about November 11. Accordingly, the City is creating a new committee, the Veterans Park Memorial Committee that will review and evaluate nominations for memorials to be erected in Veterans Park in honor of City residents who have passed, who were both veterans and contributed significantly to City government and/or the New Carrollton community. If you are a veteran and are interested in being on the Committee, please contact Karen Ruff at 301-459-6100.

EV Charging Stations at Beckett Field

The City has been working with PEPCO to have four electric vehicle (EV) charging stations installed in the parking lot at Beckett Field. They should be operational by the time this newsletter goes out. These four chargers will be owned and operated by PEPCO and will be open to the public for their use. Users will need a PEPCO app to activate the charging station and pay for the charge. This effort continues the City's initiative to Go Green!!

City Information

So, hopefully, the worst of winter has come and gone and Spring should be right around the corner! Members of the New Carrollton Green Team are dealing with energy issues like everyone else. Heating issues in the winter and cooling issues in the summer are always a concern. It is important to have energy efficient offices for all departments in the city but it is also important for the residents of New Carrollton to have energy efficient homes. Energy efficiency in both places will help save money, save natural resources, and keep us warmer or cooler, as the case may be.

As far as what the city is doing – the City has worked on several projects already to upgrade heating, air conditioning and lighting systems at the Municipal Center. The City is also working with the major utility companies to come up with ways to be more energy efficient in all of its municipal buildings. The City has purchased electric cars and has installed electric charging stations at both the Municipal Center and Beckett Field. The City is also working to convert all of the streetlights in the city to LED lighting. The Green Team wants residents to have access to similar energy efficiency programs that the major utilities offer businesses. There are many energy efficiency programs available to City residents, such as the PEPCO Home Energy Savings Program that offers to perform home energy reports, a rebate for purchasing select Energy Star certified appliances, lighting, and HVAC equipment, and the BGE Smart Energy Savers Program that offers rebates on Smart Thermostats, Electric Heat Pump and Water Heaters, dehumidifiers and air purifiers. The Green Team is researching other available programs and will pass this information on to the residents of New Carrollton.

The City of New Carrollton's Spring Festival is coming up on Saturday, April 4, 2020, and the Green Team will have a table there to pass out information on the energy audits that are offered by Pepco, BGE and Washington Gas. Please stop by the New Carrollton Green Team booth at the Festival and get information that will help you to take advantage of energy efficiency cost savings and to get ready for the cooling season in the summer and the heating season for next winter.

"Warm-Up Theft"

The term "Warm-Up Theft" is a widely used term among car thieves to describe the stealing of a car that has been left running and unattended to "warm-up." During the winter months, many motorists are tempted to leave their vehicle running in an attempt to warm up the interior of the vehicle prior to getting behind the wheel. However, this practice is one that causes two problems. First, leaving a car unattended and running is a violation of the State of Maryland Vehicle Law, Article 21 Section 1101 (a) and second, the practice of leaving your vehicle running and unattended provides for a quick and easy target for car thieves. Following these simple tips will help keep you from being left out in the cold:

- Never leave your car running or the keys in the ignition when you are away from it, even for "just a minute."
- Keep valuables out of sight or in the trunk. Purses, credit cards, and cell phones in plain view only help attract thieves.
- Always roll up the windows and lock your car, even if it is in your driveway, garage, or in front of your home.
- Never leave the vehicle title in your car. If stolen, it makes it easier for the thief to dispose of your vehicle. It can also make you a target for identity theft.
- Be alert when approaching your car, have a plan of action, and have your keys in your hand. Check around, under, and in your vehicle for suspicious individuals. Immediately leave the scene to get help if you have any concerns for your safety.
- Only park your car in busy, well-lit areas.
- Install a mechanical locking device - commonly called a club, collar, or j-bar - that locks to the steering wheel, column, or brake.
- If your vehicle has an alarm or other anti-theft device, USE IT.

Identity Theft Tips: How to Avoid Identity Theft and Credit Card Fraud

Protect Your Personal Information: Pay attention whenever you are asked to provide your address, phone number, date of birth, Social Security number or account numbers. Consider who is asking for the information and what they are going to do with it.

If you haven't initiated the interaction, be extra careful. Con artists can be extremely persuasive and will say almost anything to get you to divulge your personal information.

Keep in mind if you're placing an Internet, phone or catalog order, merchants may ask you to confirm the three digit code in the signature block on the back of your credit card. Asking for this three-digit code, sometimes referred to as a "CID" (card-member identification code), is one in a series of steps merchants can take to prevent fraud and verify that the order is being placed by the real cardholder, especially when the actual card is not present. If you know you are dealing with a trusted merchant, you should feel comfortable providing this code.

Shred Everything: If you always thought about buying a shredder but haven't yet, you should make that purchase today.

Shredding documents is one of the best ways to protect yourself against identity theft and fraud. By shredding all documents that contain any personal information (including your address, telephone numbers and other, more sensitive data), you make it a lot harder for someone to find any sort of useful information to use against you.

Your best bet is a cross-cut shredder, which turns paper into confetti. Clever con artists can take strips from a strip-cut shredder (shredders that slice paper into long, thin strips) and put them back together. But once you've created confetti, it's impossible to put back together.
